CERTIFICATED FIRST AID TRAINING FOR EXPEDITIONS 2019-20
Everyone please respond ☺

First Aid training is a mandatory part of your Expedition Training Syllabus

This year we are offering DofE Participants a 6hr nationally certificated Emergency First Aid at Work Course at a cost of £30 a head – delivered by a qualified First Aid instructor. First Aid training at this cost is not often available. It will serve you in good stead in all sorts of work as well as personal circumstances and will enhance your Career/ Employment choices.

This course will be customised towards expedition first aid, is very interactive and will include practical scenario work outside (weather permitting). The course is appropriate for Bronze, Silver AND Gold ventures and will include learning CPR techniques using a Resusci Annie each, as well as defibrillator, anaphylaxis and Epi-pen training.

o courses will be held, on two dates: Saturday 14 December 2019 and Friday 14 February 2020 (Gill school inset day), venue tbc – only one of which is necessary to attend.

We need to split the group into two, with no more than 30 on each date - please therefore indicate all the dates you can do and you will be confirmed as to which date to attend asap on or just after the deadline.

8.45am – 4pm. You will need a packed lunch. You will have your own 1st Aid book to take away.
